

State wants to dig 'pit' in Romulus

By JIM CARRAVALLA

Can a borrow pit be a recreational facility, or is it always a pit?

That's the question which will face the city of Romulus for the next couple of weeks.

Engineers from the Michigan State Department of Highways want to take 600,000 yards of borrow from a 40-acre location west of the proposed I-275 expressway and north of Pennsylvania Road, in an effort to save between $600,000 and $1 million of the state taxpayers money.

'You're asking us to allow you to remove 38 acres of land and leave us with a hole...it will fill up with rubbish, junk.'

THE AREA will be excavated to a depth of 25 feet during construction of the freeway, and will cover an area of between 25 and 35 acres.

And the engineers plan to turn the pit over to the city—saying it can have a recreational use.

"We need clay," explained the highway department representative, "and we'd like to give the city a recreational facility."

"The borrow area will eventually fill up with water from ground seepage, and we've found that the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will stock the area with fish.

"WE THINK this is an excellent means for both the state to meet its needs and the city to benefit."

The Romulus City Council did not look favorably upon the scheme.

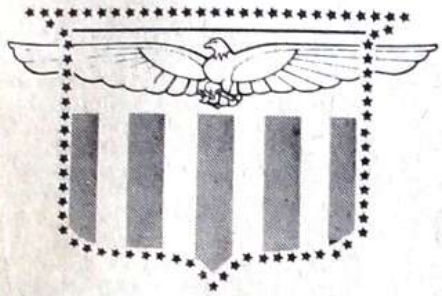

"You're asking us to allow you to remove 38 acres of land," said councilman Ellis Pennington, "and to leave us with a hole."

"You say it will fill up, and it will fill up all right—with rubbish, frigidaires and other junk."

Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry added: "You want to take fill, certainly worth $30,000 to you, and leave us with a skeleton."

"YOU MAY call this a recreational facility," said Councilman James Stewart, "but to me it looks like a pit, unless the city

New elementary schools will be built in Romulus

By KAY DeBORD

Special election coverage

Romulus school district voters approved the previously twice-defeated bond issue on the ballot.

The $11.5 million issue is primarily for the construction of three new elementary schools in the district and one new junior high school.

Unofficial figures show approximately 1800 votes were cast - the bond issue passing 926 to 878.

"I'M OVERWHELMED," School Supt. Robert McConeghy told the Romulus Roman, "and so thankful the bond issue passed - now we can begin making plans."

The unofficial tally interrupted the regular meeting of the school board as results were posted precinct by precinct, and the elated school board members found it difficult to get back to the regular agenda.

Particularly pleased was Board President Jason Lovette, who will be completing his term of office on the board June 30. He chose not to run for re-election, but saw an issue he had favored pass.

"I was quite hopeful the people would understand our problem," he said.

Next, the board must file an application with the Michigan State Finance Commission for approval of the sale of bonds before bond bids can be asked for by the board.

SUBJECT to this approval, the board will then get together with an architect to discuss the construction of the schools.

The school construction is needed to house the projected enrollment of between 4,700 and 5,000 new students anticipated in the next five years.

Already, plans have been mapped to house two separate junior high programs under one roof to relieve crowding at the elementary and high school levels, with sixth and seventh grades attending

Romulus voters pick Morris, Mrs. Chandler

Veteran school board incumbent Carl W. Morris led the balloting in the Romulus school board with a total of 1,254 votes.

Second in the race for a school board seat was Mrs. Gloria Chandler, with a total of 942 votes in the district's 15 precincts.

Close behind Mrs. Chandler in the balloting was Mrs. LaVerne McGee, who has 922 unofficially tallied votes.

TOTALS were posted for the trio during the regular meeting of the Romulus board with a recess declared by Board President Jason Lovette when the crowd at the board office became audibly enthused over the results.

Unofficial figures show that Morris led the balloting in 13 of the 15 precincts and tied with Mrs. Chandler with 14 absentee votes. Mrs. McGee led the race in Precincts 3 and 8, but failed to catch up with the other two candidates.

Huron voters re-elect Rush as ed board rep

By HENRY CANTIN

Caleton K. Rush, 48, incumbent school board treasurer, won a second four-year term on the Huron Board of Education unofficial returns of Monday's election show.

Rush, who resides at 29620 King Rd., Romulus, served the school board in 1965 and 1969. He defeated his opponent by a vote margin of 94 votes.

Rush received 388 votes. Olan McDavid, 47, of 30362 West Road, New Boston, making his first bid for the board of education position, received 294 votes.

A TAX LIMITATION increase proposition for operating purposes was defeated by a vote margin of 40 votes. The unofficial count was 372 "no" to 332 "yes."

The tax increase called for a 1.35 mill increase, which school officials had reported was "necessary" to make the school district eligible for a higher rate of state funding provided by an education bill now pending in the Michigan legislature.

The legislation on this education bill recently passed the senate. It would guarantee each school district $38 a pupil for each mill levied in 1973-94 if a minimum of 22 mills is levied. At 22 mills the district would receive $836 a pupil.

The Huron School District

currently levies 20.65 mills which would place the district in a lower rate status and guarantee it $785 a pupil, school administrators said.

THE SPONSOR of the bill is State Sen. Gilbert Bursley (R-Ann Arbor).

School officials said that the proposed 1.35 mill boost would mean an additional $294,000 in state and local funds for the school system.

School Supt. Bryon K. Antcliff said the millage was defeated because the state legislature had not finally passed the bill.

The vote turnout in Monday's election was one of the lightest in recent school elections.

Mayor candidate pulls from race

One of the candidates who announced his decision to seek the mayoral spot in Romulus has changed his mind.

City Councilman James Stewart, who announced earlier this year he wanted to become mayor of the city has withdrawn from the race.

"Since my announcement several months ago as a possible mayoral candidate, many things have happened to prevent me from running for the office of mayor," he said.

"DUE TO THE recent expansion of my business, Romulus Welding Co., the purchasing of more equipment and erection of a larger building, I am unable to finance the type of mayoral race that would assure my winning," he added.

Stewart said he would seek another two-year term on the Romulus City Council.

"I am a candidate so I may continue serving the people of the City of Romulus as I have for several terms in office during the time we were a township and since becoming a city," he said.

"The workload of the council is increasing daily, the budget is getting larger and more meetings have to be set to take care of the legislative business of the city," he added. "I am willing to tackle these and many more problems with the same zest I have in the past years."

"I AM RUNNING as an independent council candidate as I have in the past. I am not connected with any slate of candidates."

Residents warned about petitions

While candidates have until June 19 to file nominating petitions for the August primary in Romulus, they are being warned to advise their campaign workers on the method of obtaining petition signatures.

Persons signing petitions are reminded they can only sign for one mayoral, clerk and treasurer candidate and seven council hopefuls. If the same person signs for more than the legal amount, the petitions could be invalidated.

Several readers of The Roman reported today that persons have told them: "Go ahead and sign again. Nobody checks the signatures."

But election clerks check all nominating petitions to determine if persons who signed the petitions are registered residents and to watch for "duplicated signatures."

Council okays amendments to city charter for Romulus

The Romulus City Council last week approved several charter amendments which would make sweeping changes in the council's power.

The recommendations are to be included on the Aug. 7 primary election ballot.

The changes would: — increase the present council term from two to four years; — stagger the terms; — give the council the power to appoint a mayor in the event the official elected as mayor does not want to serve full time;

— give the body power to review all expenditures, deleting those if felt to be unjust;

— give the council power to eliminate and establish administrative departments;

— and reduce the number of signatures required on nominating petitions from 100 to 50.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS were made by a Charter Review Committee made up of five members — three of them city councilmen. Serving on the committee were Councilman Edmund Bizek, acting as chairman, Councilman Ellis Pennington, Councilman Brooker Edwards, Assistant City Clerk Deanna Lovenduski and citizen Nellie Wehnt.

The changes, which will consolidate and increase the power of the present city council, will be included on the Aug. 7 primary ballot for voter approval.

Not all recommendations were forwarded to the voters unanimously.

COUNCILMAN William Oakley voted against the four-year term for councilmen, the staggered term concept and the power to establish and eliminate administrative departments.

Councilman Fred Junior Block voted against the staggered terms, and the power to establish administrative departments.

In bizarre incident

Area man saves woman

A Wayne man employed at Metro Airport is being credited today with the saving of a woman's life and the safety of "dozens more" in a bizarre weekend incident at the sprawling Romulus international airport.

But William Holman merely shrugs off his heroics with this comment: "When the deputies got his attention, I moved in and did my job..."

Holman disarmed a shotgun toting mental patient who had been holding a Detroit woman at gunpoint proclaiming he was "a messenger of God" and announcing the day of "judgment had come."

THE SUSPECT, Perry Lee Brown, 43, of Detroit, was loose on a weekend pass from the Northville State Hospital. Brown calls himself "Prophet Sweetlove."

The near tragedy unfolded shortly before 10 a.m. Saturday, when Brown seized Mrs. Lillian Knott, 33, of Detroit.

After pushing the panic-stricken woman up against a wall — with the shotgun aimed at her chest, the suspect shouted: "I'm a messenger of God. Call the mayor, news media and TV. The judgment day is here."

Mrs. Knott told Wayne County Sheriff's deputies she had just seen her husband off, and was leaving the south terminal when Brown grabbed her.

SHE WAS FREED when deputies distracted Brown long enough to allow Holman to grab the suspect's arm and disarm him. One shot was discharged from the shotgun during the brief scuffle. No one was injured.

"That man (Holman) saved my life," Mrs. Knott repeated.

Brown, being held in the county jail in lieu of a $200,000 bond, faces a June 21 examination in Romulus' 34th District Court. He stood mute on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm at his preliminary arraignment before 29th District Court Judge John Sieler.

Judge Sieler entered a plea of not guilty on behalf of the released Northville Hospital patient.

BROWN'S WIFE, Frankie, told Detroit police yesterday her husband "went to the airport just to get people to listen to him. He believed that God talked to him and he was following God's orders..."

In Lansing yesterday, State Sen. John E. McCauley of Grosse Ile, said he would introduce a resolution calling for setting up a special five-member Senate committee to investigate "release policies" of the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

The Downriver Democrat said his action follows various complaints on premature release of mental patients by the state, including the case of Brown.

McCAULEY SAID Brown "had a history of mental difficulties. This unfortunate man was committed to Northville on May 29 by Probate Judge Joseph Pernick. On June 7, he was released. Hours last year, officially was resumed for 1973.

The formal announcement came at a recent luncheon held at the Presidential Inn in Southgate.

The purpose of the conference was to explain the objectives and goals of the "Think Small" program, as it is organized this year.

Attending the meeting were mayors, police chiefs and other representatives of Allen Park, Dearborn, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, Riverview, Romulus, Southgate, Taylor, Trenton, Wyandotte and Grosse Ile. Lowell L. Peacock, president of Security Bank and Trust, was the main speaker. He explained that at the close of last year's program questionnaires were sent to various citizens and public officials for their comments.

The replies were so favorably behind the program, that it was decided to continue "Think Small" this year. The program has two main objectives: (1) to reduce the possibility of traffic accidents due to carelessness and neglect; (2) to make the streets safer for children.

The central theme of the safe driving program is directed towards the individual. "Think Small" is one way of reminding the individual to drive carefully. This will be especially true during the next few months when children will be outside and the rate of accidents increases.

Peacock stressed that the program is designed to involve all citizens. Only through the complete backing of all citizens, community leaders and the police can the ever rising rate of traffic deaths and injuries be expected to decrease.

PATRIOTISM REWARDED — Three winners in the patriotism poster contest sponsored by the John M. Theme of the contest was "What America Means..." Patricia's entry was "American is for me!" All students participating in the contest also were presented with plaques. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

Both congregations requested this schedule which was tried last year and received an enthusiastic response.

State police stop issuing ID cards

The Michigan State Police as of June 1 have stopped taking applications for and issuing personal identification cards to state residents.

Decision to cut off this service was made because of lack of personnel, a backlog of ID card applications and other records work, and the priority required for handling criminal records, according to Col. John R. Plants, department director.

Although a 1973 law provides for State Police collection of a $3 processing fee per card, funds from this service are turned over to the state general fund. No extra personnel were authorized for the State Police to process the cards. Capt. Glenn Dafeo, commander of the records division which has had responsibility for the card processing, said that Plants sent a directive to all 61 posts and eight districts to take no more card applications after June 1.

Applications received prior to that time will be processed. Plants' directive noted that the processing of personal ID cards for deaf mute, which is set up under a different program, will continue. This is not a large volume activity.

The State Police have not issued ID cards to persons having a valid Michigan driver's license. Many ID card applicants have been older persons and welfare clients.

However, the problem of ID cards for those persons will be eased somewhat by a forthcoming new activity of the State Department of Social Services.

Beginning June 4, the Social Services Department will begin providing photo identity cards to its clients in Wayne county in three locations to be announced. Success of this activity there will bear on the question of providing the cards out of other DSS offices.

Dolores Ristow seeks election to council

Dolores E. Ristow, owner of Dolores' Resale Shop and executive board director and secretary of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, will seek a spot on the Romulus City Council.

"In working in my shop," said Mrs. Ristow in making her announcement, "I've found that the people in Romulus favor a change on the city council."

"It is the people of Romulus, and no special interest or political group, who are urging me to seek a spot on the council."

A 17-YEAR resident of Romulus, Mrs. Ristow has been active in community affairs. During the past year and a half as liaison between the chamber of commerce and the city government, Mrs. Ristow has attended all city council meetings and many public hearings and special meetings held in Romulus.

In addition, she has taken part in all the chamber activities, she said.

These endeavours, according to Mrs. Ristow, make her more aware of the problems and needs of the citizens.

She claims she has brought many important problems to the attention of the citizens of Romulus.

Included in the issues, according to Mrs. Ristow, are road improvement and maintenance, recreation, improved commercial development, housing and the Wayne County Metropolitan Airport.

SHE ALSO IS concerned with what she terms "the hostile attitude of some council members" toward developers.

"All too frequently an appearance on the council agenda is an open invitation for an open attack on the persons or topics being presented," Mrs. Ristow said.

Besides her duties with the chamber and her Resale Shop, Mrs. Ristow is a housewife and the mother of two children.

She and her husband, Richard, were married 17 years ago. The couple belongs to St. Aloysius Parish in Romulus.

This is the first time Mrs. Ristow has sought public office.

DOLORES RISTOW

Chambers to meet together

Six area chambers of commerce will hear former Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh speak at the "Six Southwestern Wayne County Chamber Luncheon Meeting" in Romulus June 20.

Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit from 1962-68, and a candidate for the 1974 Democratic nomination for governor in Michigan, will talk on "involvement in community affairs relative to the businessman and his business."

The meeting will be hosted by the Romulus Chamber at the Hilton Inn, 31500 Wick Rd., Romulus. Attending the meeting will be representatives of Garden City, Taylor, Wayne, Westland, Belleville and Romulus Chambers of Commerce.

Seven persons to join Troutt in council race

Seven persons will join Terry Troutt in an attempt to unseat the present administration and city council in Romulus.

The seven, Gary Bingamen, 27, clerk candidate; John Lewkowicz, city treasurer candidate; and council candidates Richard E. Butz, Joan

A. Lee, 28; Jack H. Trumble; Robert H. Martin and Lang Coleman, 32, said they will file jointly at 3 p.m. June 19.

The Troutt team, headed by former township supervisor and state senator Terry Troutt, will be officially unveiled in the Progressive Hall on Ozga Road near Five Points during a rally June 30.

WILLIAM HOLMAN

Holman saves woman

(Continued from Page A-1) later he was loose at the Metro Airport in Romulus and in the midst of a great many people, brandishing a loaded shotgun.

He said the incident was "not an isolated case."

For Mrs. Knott the airport incident was "a brush with death," and for Wayne's William Holman it was "doing his job" to rescue a woman being held at gunpoint by a mental patient.

Stewart for council

Since his announcement, former township supervisor, Terry Troutt announced his intention to seek the mayor's position. Mayor Hyle Carmichael also is seeking re-election.

Troutt invited Stewart to be a part of his ticket, but Stewart turned the candidate down, Stewart said.

Bonds okayed

(Continued from Page A-1) classes from 7 a.m. to noon and eighth and ninth grade students in the same classrooms from 12:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m.

The new bond issue will cost Romulus homeowners between $36 and $40 a year, according to a recent statement by Board Treasurer Carl Morris.

State wants to dig pit to save tax money

spends some money on it.

"I'll vote to go along with this, if the state agrees to maintain it."

Stewart was told by a representative from the DNR that the 40 acres was too small for a state park.

"It will fit in well with a regional park plan, though," said the representative.

"HAS THE state tried this in the past?" Stewart asked. "You travel along the expressways and see these borrow pits. They're full of water, but they sure don't look like recreational areas."

The representative from the Highway Department said this was a first attempt to find a constructive use for a borrow pit.

"Sir, you claim the state can save between $600,000 and $1 million by using this land," Councilman William Oakley said. "How much of that savings will you be willing to put back into the city?"

"I'd like to listen more to this idea, but I can't see spending a lot of city funds to help construct a recreation area we're forced to accept.

IF YOU put some of those savings back into the city by improving the land, it'll give us something to argue with."

The highway department representative said he would discuss Oakley's suggestion with his superiors.

The highway department wants to use the land for a borrow pit to save between $1 per yard and $1.50 per yard in transportation costs. Unless the Romulus site is used, the department representative claimed the borrow for construction of the freeway would have to be hauled several miles before it can be used.

The representative offered the city council an alternative to his proposal.

"I HAVEN'T discussed this," he said, "but it is conceivable that you could use this as a sanitary landfill."

The council flatly turned down that suggestion.

IQ group seeks re-election of Mayor Hyle Carmichael

The IQ group, which played an important role in sweeping Mayor Hyle Carmichael and his team into office three years ago, will work again this year.

The group, known as the Citizens for Integrity and Quality in Romulus Government, has opened a headquarters in the Romulus Township Hall for both the Aug. 7 primary and the November general election.

Ronald Hopson is chairman of the group, and Mickey Reel, a local real estate salesman, is coordinator of campaign activities.

THREE YEARS AGO, the IQ group was credited with running a successful campaign for incorporation of Romulus, and acceptance of a city charter. It also was credited with the election of Mayor Hyle Carmichael, Clerk Leonard Folman, Treasurer Albert Glinski and councilmen William M. Oakley and Fred Junior Block.

"Except for the charter issue, our aims and activities will be about the same as before," Hopson said.

"Since Romulus elections are non-partisan, the concept of organized citizen groups to introduce, support and actively campaign for workable units of candidates and causes is helpful to candidates and citizens alike."

"IQ's goal again this election year will be to appraise performance of elected officials during their past terms, endorse either incumbent or new candidates we feel will work together best for community interests over personal interests—and work to get those candidates elected."

"IN ADDITION, IQ will again study issues connected to city government operation and support programs it feels the city should follow."

Reel, a retired Wayne County employee who also coordinated the group's campaign three years ago. He said the group's theme this year will be promoting administrative and council teamwork in city government.

"We'll feature a lot of use of the initials ACT in literature and signs to stand for Administration—Council Teamwork," he said. "We'll try to emphasize to voters that elections of candidates who can work together for city interests over personal interests is paramount if the city is to progress."

Telephone numbers for the IQ "action center" headquarters in the former township hall are expected to be released this week or the next.

South African fights for his consciousness

By JOHN P. McGOFF, President
Panax Newspapers
Part Nine of 10-Part Series

JOHANNESBURG, SA — Powerful men who steer the South African economy are juggling the complex social issues of a conglomerate population to meet better the demands of the international market.

Their problems are those of a balance of payments, the import-export imbalance, and the industrialization of a native society.

It is still easier to place an overseas telephone call on the new cable than it is to ring up a business contact in the next city but improvements hold out the promise of better service.

New factories have blossomed in Rosslyn to the north and now total 93 and an industrial growth organization backed by South African and foreign money is jacking up the economy of the area.

THE MAJOR PROBLEM from a business standpoint is to develop management and sub-management executives among the native blacks who are trying to shake loose from the drag of an Africa as it lived in primitive style a century ago.

Africa lives next door

Dr. C.B. Strauss, general manager of the Standard Bank of South Africa Ltd., said manufacturing in 1970 was responsible for 23 per cent of the South African national product and is the main growth area.

"The primary sectors, agriculture and mining, have grown absolutely but have declined proportionately. Mining declined from nearly 14 per cent in 1961 to 10 per cent a decade later and agriculture from 13 to 9 per cent," he said.

"So the diversification and sophistication of the economy is increasing all the time."

WITH ECONOMIC sophistication comes growth in education and government, the provinces, and the municipalities; and Dr. Strauss said he can see no "major reversal in the foreseeable future."

Public corporations which in the past filled an economic vacuum are in competition now with private enterprise, but the proportion in the United States, the public utilities, is greater.

Dr. Strauss said that the industrial development corporation, formed to hype up private industry, once showed a reluctance to give up its entrepreneurial role, is now "more willing to pull out once industry has reached a viable stage."

Government has particularly zeroed in on the utility field, electricity, telecommunications and a postal service. Telephone service is inefficient on domestic lines and Dr. Strauss believes, with some exceptions, that private enterprise would do the job better.

SOUTH AFRICA is now coming out of a depression cycle and the overheating of the economy has produced a Gross Domestic Expenditure in excess of the Gross Domestic Product since 1969, but it is cooling off.

Toward the end of 1972, the Gross Domestic Product showed signs of exceeding Gross Domestic Expenditure and the Republic of South Africa is going through the aftermath (the consumer price index jumped 7 per cent last year), but the trend is easing.

South African economists are planning carefully with each segment measuring its impact on the labor market and the balance of payments. Dr. Strauss said the total economy will grow at the rate of 5.5 per cent a year without the development of any imbalance.

Inflation, rising from 3 to 7 per cent per annum since 1968, is still a problem - an imported problem because of the high trade volume.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN economy tends to lag about two years behind those of the other major nations. The diamond industry, for example, leans heavily on the fluctuations of the United States economy.

Still, the challenge in South Africa to its climb in international economic - and political - strata is, in Dr. Strauss' words:

"In other words, the great debate in South Africa centers around the physical capacity of the economy to produce."

South Africa faces many of the racial and cultural challenges present in the United States and they are more deep-seated in this land where many still cling to the life of a century ago.

"They were born in the traditional sector as Africa was a century ago and they haven't got alternative employment opportunities," Dr. Strauss said.

"I mean this is one of the challenges of our society, that we must provide educational opportunities for those people and gradually absorb them in the developed sector of the economy."

"IN OTHER WORDS, we must make them unhappy with the state of their life and hope that they would want to come into the developed sector."

That is one of the reasons why South Africa limits immigration to skilled craftsmen, about 30,000 a year. There is no official minimum wage across the board for immigrants, but a Wage Council sets standards in specific categories.

South Africa is inviting new industry to join with South African partners, contributing know-how and capital. Dr. Strauss said: "We can't keep pulling ourselves up by our bootstraps indefinitely..."

The country makes it attractive for foreign investors with a formula based on the percentage of participation.

TOURISM IS A GROWING industry in South Africa and efforts are underway to improve accommodations though no new policy has been established by the Economic Advisory Board.

Dr. J.J.S. Weideman, director of the Bureau of Research and Bantu Development, said it is a difficult and time-consuming task to train unskilled native blacks for industrial management jobs.

"That is the only thing left to the black people and that is black ownership, and we don't want to make it possible that he can be exploited only to the benefit of the white man," he said.

"Therefore, we allow the entering of industries in the homelands only on an agency basis. That is of course true in the case of whites. But I think we have experienced a fairly good take-off on the industries in the homelands."

Dr. Weideman said a major problem is combining an employment thrust with a political accommodation in the Bantu areas, a necessity to obtain the cooperation of the blacks.

ALONG WITH THE political and employment goals, Dr. Weideman's bureau is promoting better housing, architecture and demographic counsel, and spending 10.2 per cent of the national budget on it - compared to 9 per cent for defense.

There is now being developed a South African Development Bank to provide capital for water systems, other utilities and for private manufacturing plants and business enterprises.

"But I think it will be many years before you can expect from the black people a group of strong business leaders or strong industrialists to take a lead in the development of their own affairs," Dr. Weideman said.

Another of the problems in the Bantu regions is the emergence of the Indian businessman and industrialist, competing both with the foreign investors and the blacks.

"THE BLACKS don't like it," Dr. Weideman said. "They are very eager to take over and we are doing everything possible to help them take over."

South Africa is the story of economics and the growth of business and industry among desperate people of the land. The Europeans who led the rise out of ignorance and poverty; the Bantu blacks who are struggling in some areas to get into the Twentieth Century and the Coloreds; the mixed racial element which stands between them.

And from the outside comes the threat of the Red Chinese who see a nation, turbulent and volatile, but promising wealth and power.

South Africa lives next door to every American, fighting for a part of his consciousness.

Soap opera hearings

Watergate scandal should be lanced

Across this unhappy land ordinary people, with their inborn sense of national survival, are beginning to ponder whether the Watergate expose has gotten badly out of proportion.

Ghostly mistakes undoubtedly were made at the White House, either with or without President Nixon's knowledge, but in what other nation in the world would the head of state be subjected to the mauling the President now is receiving with only a nod now and then to the background events which triggered Watergate?

In a lengthy editorial the distinguished Times of London described Nixon as a victim of a "Washington variation of lynch law" and was particularly critical of the publication of statements attributed to John W. Dean III, the former White House counsel now shopping around for a promise of immunity from prosecution.

The President is being attacked, either directly or indirectly, in three arenas. Many members of the media, particularly the Washington Post and the New York Times, have pursued the President with the eager barking joy of hounds chasing a fox.

The Post can be credited with breaking the story of the illegal Republican snooping a year ago in the Democrats' Watergate Headquarters and with sensing the size of the scandal involved. It was a good example of investigative reporting.

But throughout the media there has been a tendency to put boxcar headlines over unsubstantiated stories based on leaks. The same newspapers and broadcasting stations have tended to downplay the Administration's known determination to prevent the 1972 national political conventions in Miami Beach from serving as forums for radical violent protest the way the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago was used.

Until the appointment of Harvard Law Professor Archibald Cox as Watergate special prosecutor, the supposedly secret discussions before a Washington Federal grand jury were finding their way into every fresh edition. Here again the President was being blasted from the flank in a way to make response difficult.

And finally there are the televised proceedings of the Senate Select Committee chaired by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C. in the interest of orderly procedure Cox asked the committee to close down its hearings for three months. He got an abrupt rejection.

Ervin and the other committee members clearly are within their rights, when they say the senate has charged them with getting a full disclosure of the Watergate affair regardless of where the chips fall. But sweet are the fruits of publicity to most men in public life, and the Ervin hearings have become a sort of super soap opera where reputations can be made and ruined within sight of millions.

Yet if these hearings grind on week after week and month after month they might prejudice the chances of ever trying any guilty party.

Clearly it would be difficult for anyone to answer in detail the barrage of charges and innuendos hurled Nixon's way. It also is equally clear that the explanations the President has given up to now have not satisfied the public.

Two Michigan political figures of the President's own party - Sen. Robert P. Griffin and Gov. William G. Milliken - have suggested that, if there is any more to tell, the President should stand up publicly and in the frankest terms recount the whole story. He could do this at a full scale press conference, before the Ervin Committee or some other type of forum.

The important thing for every American to realize is that the present situation can not go on. The Watergate scandal must be lanced like a boil so the healing process can start.

The national obsession with Watergate distracts the President from his other duties. The longer the case goes on the more damage is done to his authority and credibility and the more questions are raised about his chances to survive in office.

His best defense might be to define more explicitly the "national security" considerations which motivated him. After all, until comparatively recently, riotous street demonstrations complete with property damage and the burning of the American flag had become almost routine occurrences in Washington.

It should be recalled also that in any other country in the world Daniel Ellsberg, accused of theft of the Pentagon Papers, would have been tried under harsh provisions of an official secrets act and might even have received a death sentence. As it was his case was declared a mistrial because of bungling by some of the same people involved in the Watergate conspiracy.

One final overriding reason remains for getting Watergate over with. Every day it goes on there is a danger that the dollar in pocket will be worth less.

The dollar has been under heavy pressure in the money markets of Europe with foreign bankers attributing this to uncertainty as to whether President Nixon can continue to govern effectively.

No American can want another dollar devaluation.

Party bosses should enforce ethics code

While we applaud the proposed formation of a citizens committee to enforce an ethics code for members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners - we do with reservation.

The idea of an ethics board, still in resolution form, is designed to guard against conflicts of interest, discrimination, favoritism, personal profit and decorum - sounds sweet on the surface, but how effective would a code be in the hands of a citizens watchdog committee is a moot question.

Commissioners John Barr of Inkster and Brian Arrowsmith of Wayne agree in part for the need of an ethics code - but both wisely cast a warning that the establishment of an ethics watchdog committee might be used against political minority members of the commission.

The present commission structure is a partisan form of government, and in heavily populated Democratic Wayne County - partisanship is merely a formality at election time.

Before the commission goes about establishing an ethics code watchdog committee of appointed citizens, we suggest the Wayne County Democratic and Republican parties serve as the watchdogs over their party standard-bearers.

It's about time the two major political party units took a closer look at the qualifications of candidates using their respective party labels in seeking public office. If the public is to have faith in the elective system, the faith must also be upheld by the party bosses and the councils that seek out candidates to win for the two units of political philosophy.

Why must we wait for some citizens watchdog committee to enforce ethics and the initiating of censure actions. If an elected Democrat or Republican fails to uphold the principles of his party, it rests with the party organization to crack down. But would they?

Too often derelict office-holders stay on and on until the voting public finally gets wise - and then, only then does the party machinery announce: "Glad to see him go..."

Fortunately the final decision rests with the voting citizenry.

Restrict fund raising

Levin revives plan

By DON HOENSHELL
Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Former Senator Sander M. Levin had such a great idea for cleaning up politics four years ago that it's worth another try.

Of course it wasn't adopted then and, of course, nothing has happened to elevate citizen regard for politicians.

And since politicians won't or can't do it themselves, Levin sees tight legal restrictions on campaign fund raising and spending as the answer.

STILL, THE THREAT of jail and dishonor has not been enough to discourage Watergate or divert the events which have embarrassed Gov. William G. Milliken. Levin repeats his call for:

— Full disclosure of campaign fund sources including money received by a candidate before he announces his intention to run for office in either the primary or general elections.

— A ceiling on campaign contributions from an individual.

— Limits on the use of state-financed mailings by a candidate immediately prior to an election.

— Tough conflict of interest regulations including mandatory disclosure of sources of income and holdings of elected officials and candidates.

— Registration of all lobbyists and their employers. Lobbyists would be required to submit detailed expense statements each month.

— The preparation and mailing of a state-financed voter information pamphlet to all registered voters on the candidates and issues.

— A state tax credit for campaign contributions.

These are reforms that would not be needed if through some magic process integrity could be enacted, if candidates and their people didn't spend much of their time and effort circumventing the law, if greed and avarice were not so common.

LARGE CONTRIBUTORS want to buy something with their money - power, a bit of clout in government, the ear of an official. There are very few campaign contributions made for sentimental reasons.

That is one of the services performed by Watergate, making the citizen more aware of the evils possible under the system. At the very least he won't be surprised if it happens again.

Everybody knows that bulk mailings roll out of the capitol at state expense in flood volumes in the weeks before elections. Only the very naive would fail to make the connection. Levin wants to control them.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley has been trying to get better controls over lobbying for a decade with absolutely no success. The arguments all favor Levin-Kelley, but the votes in the legislature don't.

MILLIKEN HAS ordered full financial disclosures by his staff but said he will be the sole judge as to any conflict. Even then, there has been no disclosure in the weeks following his order.

Voice of the people

Questions dual responsibility

To the editor:
Irate citizens of Van Buren Township attended the May 22 meeting of the Van Buren Township Board to protest the road conditions in the township.

Members of the board informed them that they (the board) had "absolutely no control over Wayne County roads and the citizens would have to file their complaints with the Wayne County Road Commission."

The citizens complained "that authority or power over the roads was not clearcut."

They (the citizens) claimed they were getting the "run-around" because when they contact the road commission they "are told to get in touch with the township board and when they contact the township board they are told to get in touch with the road commission."

We sympathize with these citizens because the roads in Wayne County are deplorable. Both surfaced and dirt roads are pot-holed, cracked and broken up. The ditches along the roads are weed choked, debris filled and rat infested.

There is no proper drainage on any of the roads, yet Wayne County is the third richest county in the United States.

The Wayne County Road Commission's duties are to maintain roads and ditches and manage the airports in the county.

It is our opinion that the dual responsibility of maintaining roads and managing the airports is too great a chore for the WCR.

We think that the WCR should be responsible for only one duty: Maintaining the roads in Wayne County" as their title states.

Another commission should be formed to manage the airports.

Says 'Get rid of lake polluters'

To the Editor:

Bang! Like a shot out of a gun those of us living on Belleville Lake, paying enough taxes to sink the whole stinking lake, are now faced with an incredible problem: The stink of hundreds of dead fish with accompanying big black flies one can saddle and ride to work!

Each day we look at the ugly, stinking lake and shake our heads. Why did this have to happen? For 15 years several foresighted Belleville taxpayers have been raising their voices loud and clear as raw sewage floated in the lake coming with force and filth from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. It still comes to this otherwise beautiful lake. Each year complaints go to the Department of Natural Resources. As recently as Oct. 30, 1972, a letter from Wayne E. Denniston, basin engineer, stated: "It is not expected that there will be a major improvement in Ford and Belleville Lakes until the wastewater treatment plants in Ann Arbor Ypsilanti area are either eliminated or upgraded to the level of treatment with nutrient removal."

So thanks to the selfishness of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, we foul our own nests. It will do little good to ride the lake of rough fish and restock it because Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti are on a path of no return killing the lakes beyond repair.

'Specific tax' bill tackles problems

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative, 38th District

A bill recently passed tackles both a food-related and an ecology-related problem.

It would permit a "specific tax" instead of a property tax on agricultural land. The specific tax would be based on the soil capacity of the farm land and would be lower than the general property tax.

The purpose is to encourage landowners to retain land for agricultural and horticultural uses, thereby preserving productive farm land and open-space "greenbelts" throughout the state.

THE AMOUNT of farm land in Michigan has been steadily diminishing. This loss is due to a large part to high taxes on farm land. Agricultural lands presently are taxed under the general property tax law, which is based on 50 per cent of the market value of the property. Under this law, all buildings and improvements are assessed in computing the tax, regardless of the use of the land.

Resulting high taxes have lowered the farmer's profit margin to the point that many farmers are being forced to sell their property to urban developers. Continued loss of productive farm land could result in a future serious food shortage in the state.

Ecologists also point out that no greenbelts are being preserved in the state, resulting in serious ecological damage.

In addition to providing for the specific tax, the bill passed would allow local governments to collect additional or rollback taxes and to require a two-year notification period when land is withdrawn from the specific tax classification. Those who fail to observe the waiting period would be assessed an additional cash penalty.

THE BILL provides that any buildings on the farm land on which they stand would continue to be assessed in accordance with the general property tax. Only the actual productive land would be eligible for the specific tax.

The proposal is a temporary, experimental one. No applications for the specific tax would be accepted after Dec. 30, 1976.

Supporters of the bill feel that lands must be retained for agricultural production to prevent a food shortage in the state. The Michigan Department of Agriculture estimates on the basis of the U.S. Census Bureau's projections that the state must have a minimum of nearly 8 million acres of agricultural land in the year 2000 to produce the same per capita proportion of foodstuffs for the state and national markets.

In 1969 there were only slightly more than 6.5 million acres of agricultural land in Michigan. These acres are steadily diminishing due to expanding urban development. Michigan Department of Agriculture studies based on historical trends reveal that available agricultural lands in the year 2000 will be far below the estimated need.

HOPEFULLY, the bill would stabilize the farm industry in Michigan. Lowered taxes would increase the farmer's profit. Approximately 27 per cent of the state's population derives at least a portion of its income, in one way or another, from agriculture and agricultural industries.

Further loss of productive farm land would tend to raise food prices even higher.

Here's formula for winners

by THEODORE F. KUCKELMAN,
Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce

How to Tell a Winner From a Loser.

A winner says, "Let's find out"; a loser says, "Nobody knows."

When a winner makes a mistake, he says, "I was wrong"; when a loser makes a mistake, he says, "It wasn't my fault."

A winner goes through a problem; a loser goes around it, and never gets past it.

A winner makes commitments; a loser makes promises.

A winner says, "I'm good, but not as good as I ought to be"; a loser says, "I'm not as bad as a lot of other people."

A winner tries to learn from those who are superior to him; a loser tries to tear down those who are superior to him.

A winner says, "There ought to be a better way to do it"; a loser says, "That's the way it's always been done here."

Gymnastics to be part of summer recreation

This summer a special feature will be added to the Van Buren Recreation Department's agenda. Due to the ever-popular demand for gymnastics during the school year, the recreation department is offering gymnastic classes on all age levels. The classes are scheduled to meet twice a week for six weeks beginning June 25 and ending August 3.

The program itself will not only appeal to different ages but, in addition, is designed to benefit all individual skills. The classes will be held at North Junior High under the direction of Mrs. Mary Baribeau, physical education teacher and sponsor of the school's girls gymnastics team for the past three years.

and Mrs. Peggy Curtis, co-sponsor of the team.

THE ELEMENTARY sessions, first through third grade and fourth through sixth, will be co-educational concentrating on basic tumbling skills as well as introducing the children to apparatus work on the parallel bars, balance beam, vaulting box, and mini-tramp. Junior high and high school classes, limited to girls, offer not only beginning and advanced tumbling and apparatus work, but in addition, will stress gymnastics on a competitive level.

Even though gymnastics is perhaps the fastest growing sport today, the Van Buren Recreation Department is one of the few in the state of Michigan to offer such an extensive program and for the reasonable fee of $4. for elementary enrollment and $8 for junior high or high school participants.

It seems well worth the money and time for any student to take part in this worthwhile gymnastics program. It is still possible to register at the recreation offices at 46425 Tyler Rd.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD JOHNSON

Pair honeymoons at Niagara Falls

Bouquets of white gladiolas and mums adorned the altar of St. Stephen's Catholic Church May 19 as Paulette Daleo and Richard Johnson exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows. The Rev. Alexander Wytrwal presided at the five o'clock ceremony and Dorothy Roberts was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dobozy of 10989 Jackson Court, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Johnson of 22330 Bell Road, New Boston, are parents of the young couple who are now living in Lincoln Park.

The dresses worn by the bride and those worn by her attendants were made by Mrs. Dobozy. Fashioned of pearl-studded white lace over satin, the bridal gown featured a V-neckline and full sleeves ending in deep cuffs.

Her nylon tulle veil, which drifted to chapel length, was held by a headpiece of daisies and pearls. Completing her ensemble was a cascade bouquet of white white daisies and carnations.

MRS. DIANE HAM of Belleville served as honor attendant in a frock of yellow lace styled with long, puffy sleeves and a toe-touching skirt. She wore a matching daisy veil and held a bouquet of yellow and white daisies and carnations.

Pam Palmer of Livonia was the only bridesmaid in an identical blue outfit with a bouquet of blue and white daisies and carnations.

Best man was Chuck Shanks of Melvindale and usher was the bride's brother, Milon Daleo of Belleville.

For the occasion, the bride's mother chose a pale blue brocade formal gown trimmed with white daisies to which she pinned her corsage of light blue carnations. The bridegroom's mother donned a floor-length gown with a white skirt and multi-colored bodice. Her corsage was comprised of white carnations.

Following their reception at the V.F.W. Hall in Romulus, the newlyweds departed for a three-day honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

South Junior High does 'Spring Thing'

The South Junior High School Music Department presented its final concert of the school year, entitled "Spring Thing."

The seventh grade vocal music class sang three songs: "Dona Nobis Pacem," "Alone Again Naturally," and "Happiness" (a song and skit from the musical "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown.")

The eighth and ninth graders of the mixed chorus sang three folk songs: "Sound of Silence," "Vincent," and "You've Got a Friend."

The South Junior High Concert Band opened its portion of the concert with a well known march by Sousa "Washington Post." The band continued with an arrangement of "Colorama." A saxophone solo by Gerri Brady and a clarinet solo by Darlene Brady added much to the selection.

The concert band closed with a tribute to the Civil War era, playing "The Blue and the Grey" Cheryl Jennings, Terri Memering, Donna Adams and Mark were soloists.

The Coraliers, 20 girls who practice during their homeroom period, sang three songs: "Fly Away," "If" and "I Know A Place."

Featured soloists in "If" were Paula Caldwell and Mary Baxter. The concert choir sang several songs including a Madrigal, "O Happy Fair" sung a cappella and "What the World Needs Now." "Morning has Broken," and "Old-Fashioned Love Song." Five awards were presented to outstanding students of the choir: Theresa Bowles, Kathy Berbee, Paula Caldwell, Michelle Phillips and Andrea Price.

The concert band opened its second portion of the concert with "Overture for Winds." The band continued with selections from Oklahoma. During a brief break, Mark Melvin and Darlene Brady received the Outstanding Musician of the Year Awards.

The band continued with a light number, "Goofin'." A drum solo by Mark Melvin and baritone solos by Pat Van Buren and Dan Pavelka were added to the selection. After a standing ovation, the band performed an encore "25 of 6 to 4."

Directors of music at South Junior High School are JoAnn Pilcher, vocal music; and Frank Soloc, instrumental music.

Vacation tips

With the vacation season coming up, Postmaster R.J. O'Neil of Belleville offers some timely suggestions to vacationers contemplating periods of absence from their homes.

Departing vacationers are urged to avoid having their mail boxes become over-stuffed during their absence - an open invitation to thieves.

Arrange to have a neighbor or friend empty the mail box daily. Or, submit a written request to the post office or to your carrier to hold up mail delivery for a period of up to 30 days.

For vacationers who will be away for a considerable time, a forwarding order placed with the post office is advised. For first-class mail, no additional postage is required.

Use of ZIP codes on picture post cards and other vacation-type mail is, of course, as helpful as on regular year-round mail. So is the care to make all addresses legible and accurate, a precaution particularly called for since much vacation mail is scribbled while riding in cars or airplanes.

Another helpful tip is to buy enough stamps in advance to avoid running out of postage when a post office is not near. Also, why not take along a supply of the new padded mailing bags, now available at most post offices, for mailing souvenirs and gifts?

If you mail rolls of film away for processing, either on your trip or when you return, a good way to insure against the loss of your irreplaceable pictures is to attach a gummed sticker or a slip of paper directly to the roll of film repeating the address information you have on the outside wrapper or container. This way, if the roll somehow becomes separated from the outer container, delivery will still be accomplished.

ORGAN MUSIC CONCERT — Wayne Wilkinson, one of Chicago's top young pop organists, will be in Romulus Friday for a concert at the Music Center, Wayne Road between Wick and I-94. The Baldwin organ concert will be held at 6 and 8 p.m. at the Music Center. Wilkinson has performed with concerts in South Africa, Germany and other European countries. He is coordinator of organ teaching lab activities at Baldwin Piano and Organ. The Music Center, which opened nine months ago, is located in the Quik-Pik shopping center.

Players 'enlarge' theater knowledge

By DOROTHY FLORIAN

The Belleville Community Players, although not in the throes of a major production, is busy enlarging its knowledge of the theater.

One recent workshop was a demonstration in theatrical make-up by Joe Lempicki of the Dearborn Civic Theatre.

Another was a demonstration of basic acting exercises by Clem Camp of the Goose Production in Ypsilanti. Workshops concerning other aspects of the theater also are planned.

For the purpose of selecting productions for the upcoming season, June's meeting has several members presenting scenes from plays they would like to see produced by the group.

There will be scenes from two children's plays, a comedy and a drama. This meeting and program will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 14 in the Belleville High School auditorium.

The Players also are putting out a monthly newsletter. Individuals wanting to be placed on the mailing list, call Charlene Lobb at 485-8237.

Muzzle Loaders Festival is set

American history will spring to life at Greenfield Village in Dearborn June 23 and 24 with the clamor and excitement of the renowned Muzzle Loaders Festival.

Based on the turkey shoots popular in frontier America, the festival draws more than 500 shooters from all over the country to compete in this biggest event of its kind anywhere.

On Saturday, individual shooters compete with their antique weapons. Toeing the line 50 yards from the targets, they present a living panorama of the past dressed as frontier scouts, Indians, minutemen, British redcoats and soldiers from the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. There is even a sprinkling of Indian squaws and frontier women.

ON SUNDAY, the military units take over. These are commemorative groups named after actual units in the Civil War, both north and south. They make an impressive sight gathered on the field at the beginning of the day with flags and colors flying, their uniforms completely authentic down to shoulder patches and belt buckles.

Several times each day the din from the antique weaponry dies down and the air clears of the blue smoke and acrid aroma of black powder for the martial music of the unique First Brigade Band of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Using arrangements of a hundred years ago or more, they play stirring marches from the past on authentic antique instruments.

Near the grandstand, a group of skilled craftsmen demonstrate the arts essential to the frontiersman or soldier and his weapons. There is a gunsmith, a powder horn maker, a bullet molder, a rifle maker and a knife maker.

On a high hill overlooking all the activity stand two campsites. Each accurately depicts the life of the soldier in the field. One re-creates a Civil War camp, the other an encampment from the Revolutionary War.

THE PARADE and opening ceremonies begin at 10:30 each day and the activities continue until 5 p.m.

Included are a Civil War cannon firing demonstration, a Gatling gun firing demonstration, separate costume judging for boys, girls, men and women and a special shooting match between the "All Star" musket teams of the North-South Skirmish Association.

DRIFTER — Hired by the 1870 frontier townsmen as its protector, Clint Eastwood appoints Billy Curtis, the local midget (top), to the offices of mayor and sheriff in the film, "High Plains Drifter." Eastwood tells frontier town housewife Verna Bloom that it will not be necessary for her to defend her honor in another scene from the film, which is being shown at area theaters.

Economy package available

Greenfield Village in Dearborn is offering a special economy fall tour package for organized senior citizens groups. Similar to the popular packages offered for the past two years, it is available every Monday through Friday from Sept. 4 through Oct. 31.

The 1973 fall package combines a day-long visit to Greenfield Village with a cafeteria-style luncheon at the historic Clinton Inn in the Village for $3.25 per person.

This represents a considerable reduction from the regular admission and lunch prices. It is offered as part of a continuing effort to make this world-famous collection of Americana accessible to larger numbers of people.

In addition to the special rate, the package offers groups numbering 10 to 50 a chance for a leisurely tour of the village when the weather is ideal for walking and the number of visitors has decreased from its summer high.

A minimum of two weeks advance reservation is required for all groups, but the demand for previous packages indicates that reservations should be made as much in advance as possible.

For additional information or to make reservations, write Travel and Convention Department, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Michigan 48121 or call (313) 271-1620, ext. 211.

Souvenir collectors will be able to browse through booths filled with German imports.

The crafts of glassblowing, woodcarving and clay-pot making will be demonstrated.

Edgemont gives program of music

The annual spring music program of the Edgemont Elementary School recently was held in the Belleville High School Auditorium.

In honor of Michigan Week, the third and fourth graders, costumed in sports and Indian outfits, sang about Michigan's beauty.

The first and second grades went "international" for their segment of the program.

Dressed in costumes of the old European countries, they entertained with their renditions of fun songs and folk dancing.

In closing the choruses combined to sing "It's A Small World."

The program was directed by Miss Karen VanDecar, Edgemont School vocal instructor, with Mrs. Katherine Duck, accompanying on the piano.

Following the program, punch and cookies were served by the mothers and the PTO of Edgemont School.

Senator seeks county-wide judge election

On the theory that the taxpayer should get what he pays for, State Sen. John E. McCauley, (D-Wyandotte) has introduced legislation that would require judges of the Records Court and Common Pleas Court to run county-wide. The two courts currently are operated within the City of Detroit, but are financed by county and state funds.

"It would seem logical and reasonable that the people who pay a good share of the cost should have a say in the matter of who will serve," McCauley declared.

The senator also pointed out that the present composition of the two benches reflects the interests of the Detroit City area, although the taxpayers on the county bear a large share of the cost.

"Obviously, attempts to abolish these two courts will not meet with success," McCauley said. "It is plain that the House of Representatives through its recent actions, is not interested in melding the Courts in Wayne County. I am not concerned as to whether this is the right or wrong approach to the judicial problems of the county.

"There have been more than enough suggestions on that matter made by members of both the House and Senate."

McCauley said his sole problem was the issue of economics. "What is fair is fair," said McCauley. "It seems patently fair that those who pay the bills ought to have the right to help decide who will serve."

McCauley said he would not object to a bill package that would assign primary fiscal responsibility for the Records Court and Common Pleas Court to the City of Detroit.

"My attitude is that those of us who live in Wayne County have no say about those who pay the bills ought to have the right to help decide who will serve."

Traffic deaths are down

May traffic deaths in Michigan numbered 165, which was 39 or 19 per cent less than the 204 recorded in May last year, according to State Police traffic division provisional figures.

The toll was 52 less than the average of 217 for May in the five years 1968-72. High May was 240 in 1968 while the low was 49 in wartime 1944.

The May deaths included 23 recorded during the three-day Memorial Day holiday weekend.

The count for May brought the total for the first five months this year to 819, which was only seven less than 826 in the same period last year.

Reports of delayed deaths charged to May accidents will increase somewhat the totals for that month and the accumulated period.

Home accident situation seems to improve

You're not even safe in your own home — but the situation is improving. Accidents in and around the home took approximately 27,500 lives in the United States in 1971, but that was about 2,000 less than in 1966. According to a recently released study by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's statisticians, deaths caused by accidents in the home, which ranked second only to motor vehicle accidents in 1971, decreased from 15.1 per 10,000 in 1966 to a record low of 13.3 in 1971.

And there's more good news, for home accidents over the past decade accounted for a decreasing proportion of the total accidental deaths. In 1961, lives lost from home accidents were responsible for some 30 per cent of the total mortality from accidents, but by 1971 this proportion had dropped to 24 per cent. But don't get too comfortable in your easy chair, cautions Metropolitan Life, for despite this down trend, accidents in and around the home actually outranked every other type of fatal mishap in many cities, particularly the larger ones. They also were responsible for about 4.2 million disabling injuries — more than twice the number incurred in motor vehicle accidents.

FALLS LED all other accidents in causing deaths at home. In 1971, 10,000 people died from falls, accounting for about one-third the total home accidental mortality, with most of these deaths concentrated at older ages.

Among those 75 and over, 6,500 perished from such mishaps, and in the 65-74 age group, 1,600 persons died. Although the number of lives lost from falls among the elderly has decreased in recent years, this remains the most prevalent of fatal home accidents at ages 65 and older.

Fires and flames ranked second among the causes of accidental deaths in the home. They accounted for about a fifth of the total home accident mortality — 5,700 deaths. The 45-64 age group suffered the greatest loss of lives from this — 1,400. Children up to four, youngsters five-14, and senior citizens over 75 also experienced high mortality from this cause — 900, 500 and 1,000 respectively.

Poisoning by solids and liquids, which is third among home mishaps, accounted for 3,000 deaths. It was the major cause of fatal home accidents for the 15-44 age range; there were 1,000 deaths for those 15-24, and 950 lives lost in the 25-44 age group. Children up to four suffered 250 deaths.

INHALATION and ingestion of food or other objects was the next major cause of accidental mortality in the home, resulting in 2,400 lives lost. Children up to four were the most affected, 900 perished, and those 75 and over experienced 450 deaths. In the 45-64 age group, 400 persons died from such accidents.

Firearms, poisoning by gases and vapor and mechanical suffocation were other causes of accidental deaths in the home, accounting for 1,200, 1,200 and 1,000 deaths respectively. Those in the five-14 and 15-24 age ranges suffered most from firearm accidents, 300 were killed in each group.

The 15-24 age group also experienced large losses of life from poisoning by gases and vapors, as did those aged 45-64. Again, 300 deaths occurred in each group. Mechanical suffocation was most hazardous to children up to four, causing 600 to suffocate.

Screen can hide family automobile

A family carport can be almost an eyesore, if it's starkly limited to a flat roof and half a dozen posts.

Doubtless, such a structure serves its primary function, by protecting the family wheels from snow, rain and glaring sun. But it also can unduly emphasize vehicles, which are not in harmony with the lines and masses of a residence, and frame a gaping space when empty.

A carport can become much more visually than a fixed, outside umbrella — and do so without being transformed into a fully enclosed garage, which in many situations would lend it seeming dominance even over the house itself.

Best solution perhaps is to install wood screening around three sides, on some sites only two. Arguments for this simple addition to a carport aren't hard to find.

First, the screening affords passersby, and the home owner too, a view that is an extension of the house, rather than cars and possibly a boat and motorbike.

And second, the partial walling-in provides privacy and some protection from wind for outdoor-loving children on mild but rainy days.

One well-designed carport noted recently delights the eye, and its secret is a nicely proportioned screen of western cedar slats. The flat roof is nearly ten feet above the concrete slab, but the screening runs up only to the six-foot level.

ECONOMICAL HOME IMPROVEMENTS — A boldly designed chandelier in the Spanish vein pulls the assortment of furniture styles in this dining room together into a coordinated whole.

With economical fixtures

Lighting can improve home

Spring is here and many homeowners' thoughts are turning to interior improvements. Those moving into apartments this spring may find themselves faced with a huge decorating job.

Very often lighting is one of the last things attended to when decorating a room. And one of the most common sore spots in apartments are usually insignificant lighting.

Most people have very definite ideas about the style of furniture they like, the color schemes for draperies and carpeting, but they usually are at loose ends when it comes to choosing the right type of chandelier.

LIGHTING is not only meant to provide adequate comfort for reading and other close work, but it should create a specific mood that complements the style of the room.

Low-key lighting is the most charming and flattering, and it should glow from an appropriately-styled chandelier to be most effective. The atmosphere which you enjoy in your favorite restaurant is partially due to soft lighting, and you can enjoy the same charming surroundings in your own home by choosing the proper lighting fashions.

There is nothing more relaxing and conducive to good conversation than the atmosphere created by low lights.

The first thing to consider when shopping for a fixture is the style of furniture in the room to be decorated. Elegant crystal chandeliers with dangling prisms complement traditional furnishings and formal dining rooms; heavy, dark wood Mediterranean furniture calls for a more rustic type of light made of black wrought iron or copper.

Early American interiors need chandeliers made of polished brass or pewter; and for streamlined Modern or Contemporary furniture, there are many new chrome and smoked glass designs on the market.

The total look of the dining alcove in the photograph here is Spanish with its solid, dark wood furniture.

IT CALLS for a fixture made of wrought iron or beaten copper, and the selection here fits in very well with other furnishings. The armoire with its gilt carvings and the ornamentation of the Mexican chairs require this monastery-like chandelier by Progress. The six candelabra bulbs with amber-colored cylinders are supported by wrought iron scrolls which are attached to a solid wood column.

The gay floral centerpiece and white walls are a nice contrast to the dark richness of the furniture. Candles should always be used on the dining table along with the light of the chandelier to intensify the mood.

To control the volume of light, a dimmer switch can be installed on the wall. In dining rooms, fixtures should be hung close to the table — the bottom-most tip of the chandelier should be 37½ inches above the table top. When selecting a chandelier, keep in mind the size of your table to make sure they will be of proportioned size. A fixture that is 21 inches in diameter would be correct for a small 44 inch round table. Larger tables, whether rectangular or oval, require fixtures up to 28 inches in diameter. Matching wall sconces are available for larger dining rooms. Placed above a server, they make an attractive addition.

SPRING IS the time to make these decorating improvements, for the warm weather months will bring many people to your home. And won't you feel secure when guests appear at your front door that your home looks attractive and well-cared for?

Is there some way to prevent cracks in a wood floor from mirroring through to spoil the appearance of resilient floor coverings?

To save money, time

Check home fix-up plans with 'pros'

When it comes to home improvement, haste can waste a lot of money.

The best assurance of dollar value and job satisfaction is to plan remodeling projects carefully. Before you begin, get professional advice and specific information. It can help you avoid common - and expensive - pitfalls.

The magazine offers these suggestions:

—Decide exactly what the improvement should be. Make a list of the benefits it should achieve, and a sketch of how it should look. Set a realistic price range.

—Take your plans to a reliable contractor or building supply dealer. If you don't know the local "pros," ask friends for recommendations, or ask contractors for names of customers you can contact.

—Get a detailed written job specification from the remodeler. This should include a complete list of materials to be used, labor and service to be provided, and carefully estimated costs.

—Check on local building codes; on building permits and who will get them; on permit fees and who will pay them.

—Find out if the remodeler carries public liability insurance. Be sure you're protected if someone is injured on the job.

—Decide on the best method of payment. Be sure you understand the terms of a financing plan or bank loan.

—Be sure you're read and understood - ALL contract terms before signing. Get all guarantees and warranties in writing.

—Shun the high-pressure salesman who tries to sell you things you don't need, or offers a "something for nothing" deal.

—Shop the local building materials centers. They carry a wide range of materials and have helpful "remodeling ideas" displays. Many offer consulting and/or contracting services.

OUTDOOR PARTY ROOM — It used to called the patio; but in these days of rising building costs, it is much more. It's a party room outdoors. The American Association of Nurserymen advises that the same decorating skills used indoors can be moved outside with nature's gifts of trees, plants and shrubs.

Wood life expectancy increased

Thanks to technological improvements, the life expectancy of modern wood windows has been increased — and their maintenance reduced.

For example, ponderosa pine windows are factory-treated with a chemical preservative that guards the sash and frame against wear and weather abuse. The windows can be expected to last for the life of the house.

Window maintenance has been substantially lessened through:

1. Use of insulating glass now obtainable with all ponderosa pine window styles. This eliminates the need for storm sash and cuts window washing chores by half.

2. Availability of removable multi-pane grilles. At window washing time, the grilles snap out revealing one easily-cleaned glass pane.

3. Development of pivot and lift-out sash which allow both sides of the window to be safely cleaned inside the house.

Backyard golf good choice

Golf in the backyard is a practical choice for almost any golfing homeowner.

Three factors to be considered in planning this part of the recreational area, according to the American Association of Nurserymen, are the preparation of the soil, selection of lawn material, and the continuing care of the green.

With the right advice—available through a nursery garden center—almost any sportsman can create an area where he can improve his game.

Prevent cracks in wood

Is there some way to prevent cracks in a wood floor from mirroring through to spoil the appearance of resilient floor coverings?

Most applicators of floor tiles prevent this trouble by providing a smooth surface for the new floor covering. Many use hardboard underlayment, which is designed specifically for this purpose.

There are other advantages, too, besides appearance. The new floor will wear better. Underlayment also gives additional insulation, decreasing heat losses, and there is less noise transmission to the area below.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are inspired about how to have more harmony at home, but sleep on it before you put plans in operation in the morning. Iron out the wrinkles in your plan. Improve your appearance so you make a fine impression on that special person in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study practical affairs so they can be improved and show you are logical when dealing with experts, and you get good results. Mate may be in an impish mood. Take this with a grain of salt.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Out to new places and with new people who can assist you in getting ahead much faster in the future. You are under very fine planetary conditions and should make this a most productive day, p.m. Get to bed at a good hour tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use intuition so that you become more dynamic and can make the future more profitable and interesting. Take advantage of fine opportunities around you to progress. Meet with those usually difficult to see.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those much favored young people who should have the finest education possible so that the wonderful quality of leadership and excellent talents can be realized, particularly in the fields of humanitarianism, the greatest good for the greatest numbers. Permit to have many friends to provide experiences in relating to others. Give good ethical training early.

Again this year, Fr. Joseph Kernosek, pastor of St. Aloysius, will sponsor the league.

Hamlin gets appointment

The Belleville City Council has approved the appointment of one of its members, Councilman Thomas Hamlin, to be the liaison representative for the City of Belleville pertaining to the planning activities involving Belleville Lake and Edison Lake Pointe.

The council acted upon the recommendation of Mayor Royce E. Smith, following a request for such an appointment by Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer.

The initial draft of a suggested agreement for the ownership take-over of the lake and its 101-acre recreation park-Edison Pointe Park by Van Buren Township currently is under review by Township Attorney Phillip Rice.

The Detroit Edison Co., owners of both the lake and park offered the lake and park to the township as a free gift.

In time of sorrow, the sympathy of others can give so much consolation to those who are bereft. We understand this... that is why every person who comes to us for guidance when making final arrangements is given the utmost consideration at all times. The comfort of the bereaved is the thought that is uppermost in our minds here at

All-Area headaches

By TOM MOORADIAN

I have a confession - no, none of that true confession stuff, but about picking these All-Area teams. I know they mean a lot to the high school athletes, in fact, some have managed to earn scholarships thanks to the writeups and the recognition.

But if there are two sports that we in this department abhor to pick, they're baseball and tennis.

I can visualize what my colleagues must go through to select All-State teams.

IN TRACK, cross country, swimming and golf we stage All-Area meets. Winner take all. If the young athlete feels he's better than the guy who's ranked No. 1, he comes out and proves it.

But in baseball all we have is a mass of statistics and the stats are what we must base our final selections. When you have ball players as J.P. McBride (John Glenn), Mike Dansard (Belleville) Dana Kemp (New Boston Huron) and Al Slamer (Wayne Memorial) battling for the catcher's job on this year's All-Area team, whom do you pick?

All four athletes are excellent ones and Dansard as well as Kemp batted over .400 this year, breaking school records. See what I mean? Do you flip a coin?

It is just one of many problems that pop up during the selection of such a baseball team.

But the problem must be resolved. And it will be resolved.

Then, in tennis we have a separate set of problems. Stats here are not as deceiving as they are in baseball. A netter either wins or loses a match; a baseball player may get a hit according to one scorekeeper, but the rival scorekeeper may feel it with an error.

Anyway, Mike Hairbedian, the veteran Cherry Hill High School tennis coach, feels it's time we sponsor an All-Area tennis tournament.

And I agree - the time has come.

"We would welcome an All-Area tennis meet," said Hairbedian, "it would be the fairest way to chose the best boys in our area. And I feel it wouldn't be as difficult to set up such a tournament, much easier than the All-Area track meet to be sure."

HAIRBEDIAN, whose Spartans captured their first Tri-River Conference title this season, pointed out that an All-Area tennis meet would solve the question as to who are the best.

"I had one boy, Dave DeBiasi, who went 15-0 this season and do you realize he wasn't picked for our all-league team. In fact, only one person, Dave Lobkovich made it in the conference."

"I feel it's a shame such talent was left off all-league and to correct these injustices, something should be done such as setting up an all-conference meet as well."

With the Great Score Keeper's help we'll have our tennis meet next year.

Then, there are a couple of interesting notes that crossed this desk from Al Bush, the Michigan High School Athletic Association's director of athletics.

THE TIE-BREAKING rule, apparently, is here to stay in high school football. According to Bush, the tie-breaking procedure in football will be permitted again, however, it will not be necessary to get permission from the MHSAA. A record form will be sent to schools prior to the season. From the results of a questionnaire to schools, 62 games were determined by the tie breaking rule in 1972.

Principals and coaches agreed to continue use of the rule in the optional form. A change will eliminate the Try for Point if it had no bearing on the outcome of the game.

The tie-breaker made its debut in Michigan last year. It gives prep football teams a chance to play out a tie.

And did you know that the 1973-74 school year will be the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Michigan High School Athletic Association? The schools developed the present form of the MHSAA in December, 1924.

When a baseball player breaks a record held by Bernie Carbo, then he's bound to draw attention.

Carbo, who belted five homers while wearing Livonia Franklin's colors, is now No. 2 in the HR department at the high school. The St. Louis Cardinals catcher's name has been replaced in Franklin's record book by Gar Frantz who connected for seven homers and batted .409 in leading the Patriots to a Northwest Suburban Conference championship this season.

Frantz is the best player I have ever coached," said Ron Hellier. "He has power, a fine arm, hits well and equally important is very coachable."

FRANTZ, who has played varsity baseball at Franklin for the past three years, batted .409 for the season and was the team's co-captain.

He is one of only two players to repeat on The Associated Newspapers' All-Area team. The other is Belleville's record-setting catcher, Mike Dansard.

DANSARD, also a senior, broke Gary Gentle's batting average when he compiled a .466 average this season. The 5-foot-10, 170-pound catcher appeared at the plate 56 times, rapped 25 hits, including seven doubles and a triple and scored 11 times as well as had nine stolen bases.

"He was our sparkplug," said Coach Vi Kaminski, "and when someone hits .466, what else can one say about him? The average speaks for itself."

DANA KEMP, Huron senior backstop, will share the catching duties with Dansard. Kemp batted a hefty .474 average, going 27 for 57. He also led in stolen bases with 20 and had 18 walks.

Like Dansard and Frantz, Kemp also was named to his all-conference team. Dana is considering on going to either Central Michigan University of Monroe County Community College.

Rounding out the infield are Robin Hook (Belleville), Steve Orr, (Garden City East) and Jim Wisniewski (Garden City East).

Hook was given the job of handling the third base chores, though he is also a solid glove at short and second. He also batted the ball around at a .308 average and hammered two homers as well as four doubles.

Hook, also a promising cage prospect, appeared at the plate 52 times and cashed in on 16 hits and 12 runs.

ORR AND WISNIEWSKI led East to the district championship, ousting such powers from state competition as Redford Union and Detroit Thurston. The two are "a perfect double play" combination and pulled off 10 of them during the recently concluded campaign.

Both batted over .320 and were unanimous all-conference choices.

GARY ADKINS represents Belleville in the outfield, teaming with Livonia Franklin's Jeff Waterstone and Romulus' Steve Pollard.

The 16-year-old junior "has a lot of potential and was one of our best defensive players," said Kaminski. "He had six RBI's and scored four runs."

WATERSTONE batted .351 and would you believe that his coach said that "batting wasn't his biggest asset to our team?"

"Jeff was one of our co-captain and his leadership kept us together when we were down," said Hellier, "when you have a fine player who is also a gentleman then you have a winning combination."

Franklin's Hellier is Coach of Year

No one would call a 13-9 won-lost baseball season a "fantastic" year.

But when one considers what Livonia Franklin head baseball coach Ron Hellier did with this year's team, it's understandable why he's receiving a lot of accolades this year.

AFTER LOSING four straight in the Northwest Suburban Conference he turned the Patriots around from a 1-5 record and built a 10-4 championship team out of his Livonians.

The remarkable turnaround earned for Hellier The Associated Newspapers' Coach of the Year title.

It was the first time in his five years' coaching tenure at Franklin that the 33-year-old coach had won a Northwest Suburban crown.

"We had high hopes going into this season," related Hellier after he learned of the top coach's recognition. "But, then, our No. 1 pitcher, Jamie Knapp was injured in his first start of the season and was out for the year.

"WE HAD TO do some quick patching in our pitching rotation and Rick Gaber, who started behind Jamie, came through for us. We also developed an outfielder, Dave Watkins, into a pitcher and the conversion was a successful one."

Hellier also said that "winning a doubleheader from a highly-touted Plymouth team jelled us."

A GRADUATE of Olivet College where he earned his Bachelor of Science in psychology and physical education, Hellier also received his masters in physical education from Eastern Michigan University where he was assistant baseball coach to Ron Oestrike for one season.

In the process of moving from Northville to Canton Township, Hellier and his wife, Laurie, have two small children, Lisa 4 and one future slugger, Robbie, who is one-year-old.

Cicotte hurls no hitter

Former Belleville High pitcher Al Cicotte hurled a no-hitter Sunday for the Riverview Post in the 16th District of the American Legion baseball circuit, as his team dumped Garden City Post No. 2, 11-0.

Cicotte, who threw a no-hitter for Belleville this past season, struck out 15 - eight in a row - and walked one for Riverview. Another batter reached base on an error.

The mound ace also went 2-for-2 at the plate to help his cause.

Huron Valley Steel's winning string extended to 32 with a pair of wins last week in the Romulus Parks and Recreation softball league. Huron breezed past Traffic Transport 17 to 0 and then bested Romulus Welding 10 to 4 Thursday.

Rich Kokila limited Traffic Transport to two hits in hurling the shutout Tuesday. Rich Spearman slammed two home runs in a 3 for 3 performance.

Paul Tryon also collected 3 hits in 3 trips. Kokila was touched for four runs on six hits as he picked up his fourth win of the season while Wally Goeckel's three run homer led Valley's 17 hit assault.

Beck-Howell Carpets stayed close on Huron heels routing Baum's Funeral Home 23 to 5. They also rallied in late innings to defeat Carpentry by Woodcraft 14 to 10. Bill Reiber, Ron Dick, Phil Bailey and John Sterling belted home runs to lead Beck-Howell's 25-hit attack against Baum's.

REIBER and Bailey had five RBI's while Sterling knocked in four. Fred Eberline allowed eight hits in gaining his second win of the season. Bob Zygal came on in relief against Carpentry in the third with the Carpenters trailing 7 to 2 and gained the win.

Carpentry scored four times in the first when Jerry Kittle drew a walk, Dan Peterlin, Earl Champagne, Dave Tresper and Bob Martin followed with singles. Ron Dick homered behind Walt Drewno's walk to get the rugmen on the scoreboard.

Carpentry added three in the third when Tresper doubled, Martin reached on an error and three walks were issued.

Beck-Howell got those three back in its half when Hugh Miller walked, scoring on Reiber's triple, Ken Mientkiewicz chased Reiber home with a single and scored on Eberline's double.

Carpentry extended its lead again in the fourth when Peterlin and Champagne singled and Tresper was safe on a boot, Martin's sacrifice fly made it 10 to 5 Carpentry.

Beck-Howell took charge, tying the game in the fourth when Walt Drewno singled, Ron Dick doubled, Bob Zygal, Jim Halcomb and John Sterling singled, Bill Reiber doubled scoring Sterling with the equalizer.

Phil Bailey homered with Eberline aboard in the fifth for the game winning runs and the Carpenters added two insurance markers in the sixth when Miller doubled, Mientkiewicz tripled and Eberline singled.

Belleville High has only one representative on the 1973 Suburban Eight all-conference baseball team, but the other nine players selected would be hard-pressed to top his credentials.

Senior catcher Mike Dansard carries the colors for Coach Vit Kaminski's Tigers among the league's elite diamond crew, sporting a school record-shattering .446 season batting average during Belleville's 10-8 campaign.

According to Kaminski, Dansard is eyeing Central Michigan University and Ferris State as possible schools to put his baseball talents to work at next fall.

THE SUBURBAN Eight coaches picked the all-conference squad by positions, one man per spot. Allen Park and Dearborn Edsel Ford landed three players apiece on the squad, leaving the other four positions to Belleville, Livonia Bentley, Dearborn and Redford Union.

Here is the first-team lineup:
Brent Boegler (Bentley, 1B), Mark Pavlasky (Dearborn, 2B), Dan Burke (Allen Park, 3B), Jim Cameron (Edsel Ford, SS), Gary Fuks (Redford Union, OF), Steve Wahlberg (Edsel Ford, OF), Craig Fraser (Allen Park, OF), Mike Dansard (Belleville, C), and pitchers Jeff Hydlicka (Allen Park) and (Randy Owen (Edsel Ford)).

Trenton and Plymouth were the only schools not represented on the first team. Belleville third-baseman Robin Hook was elected to the league's second team and four Tigers were given honorable mention: Jerry Cole (Pitcher), Joe Stillwagon (1B), Waterstone also made all-conference two straight seasons. This year as leadoff man he had 12 RBI's, stole 15 out of 17 attempted bases and scored 17 times.

Pollard, a 6-0, 170-pound senior, "did everything well," according to Coach Bill Cuhan. "He's an excellent defensive outfielder who batted over .350 and was our team leader."

When you pitch 47 innings and allow only 10 earned runs you must have something on the ball. And Belleville's Jerry Cole did.

He gave up 30 hits, fanned 47 and walked but 23 while seeing duty as a Tiger moundsman. With the team the ANP has assembled, the 6-foot-0, 190-pound Belleville senior hurler would have the support both defensively and offensively to stop any rival.

ALLENDALE — William C. (Bill) Hardy, 28, the head football coach at Romulus Senior High School, has been appointed assistant football coach and Physical Education Instructor at Grand Valley State College, it was announced today by Grand Valley Athletic Director Donald E. Dufek.

Hardy, a graduate of Detroit Pershing High School, attended the University of Michigan from 1963-66. During his undergraduate years, he performed as a defensive tackle for three varsity seasons under Wolverine Coach Chalmers (Bump) Elliot.

He accepted a teaching position in the Ann Arbor Public School System in 1968.

WILLIAM C. HARDY

At the same time, he undertook graduate studies at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, the institution from which he received a Master's degree in Guidance and Counseling in 1971.

HARDY MOVED on to Romulus High School in 1970, serving as assistant football coach for two years before assuming the head coaching position in the summer of 1972.

In his only season as head coach, Romulus posted a 5-3-1 record.

Jim Harkema, Grand Valley's first year head football coach, indicated that Hardy's duties would lie primarily with the defensive unit, and that the defensive line would be his area of immediate emphasis.

Hardy is married to the former Carol Ann Ogletree and they have two children, Vikki, 4, and William, Jr., 1. The Hardys currently reside in Ann Arbor.

Romulus women's softball program is 'mushrooming'

By DALE GOWING
The "mushrooming" growth of women's sports in thousands of cities across America has taken root in Romulus, too, and the results have been awesome, in the least.

The crze for gals' athletics in the city is reaching a fever pitch — and the programs are only in their first year. Beginning as an activity to give the local women something different to do, the Romulus Women's Slow-Pitch Softball League is growing by leaps and bounds, thanks to the Romulus Jaycees and the Department of Parks and Recreation.

THE TWO organizations co-sponsor the league, which has multiplied to eight teams and 150 women in the two short months since its inception in April. In fact, says Rose Booth, captain of the first-place City Hall Gals, "next year there might be more women playing than men. I can't believe it, the women just keep coming out."

Romulus never had a women's softball league before this year. Ad it was because of Jaycee President Gary Johnson that there's one today.

Johnson started the ball rolling at the Jaycees' April meeting, contending that Romulus men have "a thousand things to do" and the women really have nothing. "What would we do if we were women?" he asked his constituents.

THE JAYCEES wholeheartedly approved Johnson's proposal to establish a women's softball circuit and the next step was to find some backing.

"The Parks and Recreation department was more than happy to help out and backed us with some equipment and gave us their blessing," said Johnson. "That really helped."

The Jaycees printed fliers to distribute around the city, seeking interested gal ballplayers. But, according to Johnson, word got out early and there were inquiries from two teams before the fliers were even off the press.

The growth from there is history. "WE HAD NO idea it would be this big," Johnson exclaimed. "It's just unbelievable how it mushroomed on us."

The only problem encountered so far has been space. The women's and men's league have to rotate the use of the city's two available fields at the junior high school, Johnson says. Thus, all the women's games are played on Saturdays, while the men play primarily on Tuesdays and Thursdays. "We want this to be a fun league," he explains, "in which everybody can play. There are no tryouts or anything and we even allow unlimited substitutions."

Like Rose Booth, Johnson also foresees the not-too-distant date when enough Romulus women will trade their aprons for mitts to overtake the men in numbers.

So take that, male chauvinists.

Romulus stars sign letters of intent

At least two Romulus High star athletes have signed letters of intent to mid-western colleges for next fall.

Besides Ron Bostick, who several weeks ago announced his intent to play basketball at the University of Detroit next season, the Associated Newspapers have learned that Eagle shortstop Vergil Smith will play baseball for Mid-American Conference member Toledo University.

Another Romulus athlete, track star Darryl Gooden, is reportedly "very close" to deciding on which college he will attend.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan discus thrower Steve Adams set a Ferry Field record with a 183-foot-6 inch effort in a dual meet against Indiana.

Kel-Joys overwhelms Seekers, 33-0

Shellackings were the order of the day Saturday in the Romulus Women's Slow-Pitch Softball circuit.

The Kel-Joys blasted the Seekers, 33-0, boasting an obviously strong offense and a stellar defense which successfully executed its second triple play in as many games. Kid Power shelled the Roadrunners, 43-1, and City Diamonds powered past the City Hall Gals, 19-9 in the other routs. Cheryl Wedyke clouted two grand slam home runs for City Diamonds.

In the day's only tight contest, the Ms. Fits edged the Odd Squad, 9-8, as Nancy Gent homered for the winners. Bertha Sterling and Pat Holcomb had three RBI's apiece for the losers.

Retiree is honored

Family, friends and present and former co-workers assembled Saturday to honor Isiah Askew, retiring custodian at Beverly Elementary School in Romulus.

The party, sponsored by the staff of Beverly School and the Beverly Parent-Teacher Organization made plans that included a dinner and program attended by more than 100 persons.

Greetings were extended to the guest of honor who also received numerous gifts in remembrance of his 25 years of service to the Romulus School District.

Included among the gifts was a suitably-inscribed plaque marking his 21 years at Beverly School and a stereo-record player-radio from the school staff and PTO.

Earlier in the week, the students held a surprise assembly in honor of Askew, and presented him with songs, poems and a "sack of money" to express their affection for him.

IN APPRECIATION — Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Askew display the plaque presented to him on his retirement as custodian of Beverly School in Romulus. The plaque was just one of the gifts of appreciation presented at the recent Saturday party held at the school in Askew's honor. He had been at Beverly for 21 years.

Wheat allotment change is eyed

A new farm wheat allotment may be established for the 1974 crop of wheat acreage for farms that did not have a 1973 allotment, if they meet eligibility requirements, Arthur Monks of the Wayne County ASC Committee has announced.

A 1974 wheat allotment will be established automatically for most farms that had a wheat allotment in 1973. To be eligible for a new farm allotment, the operator must expect to receive more than 50 per cent of his income from farming.

Applications for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county office, 3716 Newberry St., Wayne, on or before July 2, 1973.

100 representatives attend hospital meet

More than 100 representatives of major hospitals throughout Michigan recently gathered at the Michigan Community Blood Center in Detroit for a demonstration of leukopheresis, a revolutionary type of treatment which has been performed with encouraging results on leukemia patients in Children's Hospital.

A film illustrating the process was shown and further explained by Dr. Wolf Zuelzer, director of the Child Research Center in Detroit.

Leukopheresis is a process in which only leukocytes (white, infection-fighting blood cells) are removed from a blood donor and transfused into the bloodstream of a critically ill patient. It has proved so effective in blood disease patients, Dr. Zuelzer said, that it may now be used in some terminally ill cancer patients in other Detroit hospitals.

With the recent demonstration bringing this program to the attention of the Michigan Association of Blood Banks and physicians throughout Michigan, Dr. Zuelzer believes it will lead to an increasing demand for blood donors.

The Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan, located at 17801 W. Seven Mile Rd., Detroit, made possible the introduction of this program in Detroit last November with recruitment of more than 100 blood donors from among its membership and families of patients it serves.

It continues to be the only registering agency for blood donors wishing to participate in this program which holds great promise in prolonging the lives of leukemia, other blood disease and some cancer patients, and urges anyone wishing to register as a donor to come, telephone or write the Leukemia Foundation immediately.

Besides handling all donor registrations, the Children's Leukemia Foundation, a Torch Drive service, also has earmarked $8,000 in research funds to purchase equipment necessary for the program.

Van Buren bus drivers get service certificates operating on schedule and image of charter, were presented with the certificates of appreciation for outstanding service.

problems of self government as operated in Michigan.

It is constructed so that students may put the theories of American government into actual practice as they are taught in the classroom. This is done through the control of city, county and state offices organized as a "Mythical 51st State."

One of the highlights of the Boys' State program is the march from the Michigan State University campus to the capitol where the boys meet the governor and other state officials, tour the capitol and observe the government in action.

The Elgin-Marcy Treaty of 1851, the first U.S.-Canadian trade agreement, allowed Americans to fish in Canadian waters.

Senior citizens benefit from tax relief package

The $380 million tax relief package recently signed into law by the governor is a "great step forward," but in these days of inflation going up, up, up, it is not nearly enough, especially for the elderly, said state Rep. Gary M. Owen (D-Ypsilanti).

The senior citizen will benefit greatly from this package of bills, Owen said, but there will be many citizens who will benefit little or not at all. He said rapidly rising prices will counteract any benefits the senior citizen receives.

The package allows senior citizens with incomes under $3,000 a 100 per cent tax credit, senior citizens earning over $6,000 would get a 3.5 per cent credit, to a maximum of $500.

The new act covering property tax replaces the homestead exemption for senior citizens and allows them to file their claims by mail with their state income tax returns. If a person pays no income tax or if his tax credit exceeds what he owes in income taxes, he will receive a check from the state for the difference.

Therefore, if his income tax amounts to $150 but he is due a credit on his property taxes of $350, he will not have to pay the $150 in income taxes and will be sent a check for $200 additional.

Another of the acts provides for an increase in the exemption on the tax return. In the case of the senior citizen, he will be able to deduct a personal exemption double that of the younger taxpayers.

The exemption has been increased to $1,500 from the previous $1,200 per person.

Senior citizens will then be able to deduct $3,000 for their personal exemptions on their state income tax returns for each person over 65.

"The rapidly rising prices in today's world do not allow the senior citizen to live as he had expected when he determined the amount of retirement money he would need," said Owen. "He is faced with an ever increasing cost of living so that his living style must go down."

"The legislature has provided some relief and it is a step in the right direction — but it is not enough," insisted Owen. "It must yet better provide for those persons who are on fixed incomes."

Eastern to offer program leading to nursing degree

A four-year program leading to a bachelor of science degree in nursing at Eastern Michigan University has been approved by the Michigan Board of Nursing. The new curriculum will be offered for the first time in the fall semester. Enrollment will be limited to 75 students.

The board voted unanimously to approve the program, according to a letter received by President Harold E. Sponberg. The letter said that "the board congratulates you and your faculty."

EASTERN'S Vice-President for Instruction, Bruce K.

Nelson, said:

"The unanimous approval of our nursing education proposal by the State Board of Nursing culminates seven years of research and study by members of our faculty, the Faculty Senate, the administration, and the board of regents."

"Special commendation for planning, organizing and writing of the final document goes to Dr. Gudrun Burtz, Director; to Assistant Vice-President of Instruction Ray LaBounty, and to Jean Paul and Judith Floyd, members of the Nursing Education Department faculty.

"They have created a program which will develop professional nurses who will not only be able to perform well in the institutional setting but who will have a strong community orientation."

"THAT IS the direction, we believe, in which the baccalaureate nurse will find ever expanding opportunity to utilize effectively her or his talents in our State and national health care delivery systems. We are gratified that the State Board of Nursing has endorsed this unique educational experience for concerned young women and young men."

Interest in a four-year school of nursing was clearly evidenced by the fact that more than 300 inquiries have been received from prospective applicants.

Arrangements have been made with hospitals and health care agencies to provide students with the necessary clinical experience.
